

OIL & GAS GAZETTE
Friday, 11 June, 2004

Myponga-1 spud expected this weekend

*Adelaide, 11 June, OGT*The Beach Petroleum-operated Myponga-1 exploration well is scheduled to spud this weekend in the South Australian sector of the Cooper Basin.

The Myponga Prospect is situated in PEL 94, about 15 kilometres southwest of the Kobari Oil Field and about 25 kilometres from the Jena and Biala Oil Fields.

The well will target reservoirs of the Murta and Namur Sandstones which are productive elsewhere in the Cooper Basin.

Previous drilling within the licence encountered a thin sub-commercial oil pool in the Murta Sandstone